Army Selection Board Discovers
That It Overlooked The Name of
Frank H. Carr

ANOTHER CASE IS APPEALED

Conscription Agent Says Boards
Shouldn't Take Any Course Except Provided in Law

In checking up the lists the local selection board found one additional name that should have been certified to the district board for army service. In some manner the name of Frank H. Carr, son of Milt Carr of near New Salem, was overlooked. His name was certified to the board today. He had passed the examination and asked exemption because he thought he was in military service. Carr had enlisted as a member of a local cavalry organization, but as this was not in the federal service, the board certified his name.

Frank Carr makes the second son of Milt Carr who has been certified for service. The first was Robert Bruce Carr, who has been admitted to the second officer's training camp at Fort Harrison. Robert Carr was also certified for service in the national army, but will take the training course at Fort Harrison. The county will get credit for him on its quota. With the certifying of the second Carr boy the total number of names certified for service is brought up to ninety.

Thus far only one appeal from the findings of the local board or the list of men certified for service posted yesterday has been taken. Byron Wainwright filed notice of appeal. Wainwright claimed exemption on the grounds that his parents were dependent upon him and in his affidavit swore he contributed the sum of $400 yearly towards their support.

Some of the men listed by the local board as being ready for service have filed claims directly with the district board but as the local board has no record of these claims it is impossible to tell how many of these claims have been filed. Any attempt to state the number of claims filed with the district board for exemption on occupational grounds is therefore merely guess work.

Jesse E. Eschbach, state conscription agent, sent explicit instructions to members of local boards today to follow closely the conscription law. The cause of his

It was stated also that the French now occupy all of Hill No. 304.

WILL NOT BE HERE LONGER THAN MONDAY

Sanitary Detachment Expects Orders
at Any Moment to Depart For Indianapolis Tomorrow.

MAY TAKE PART IN BIG REVIEW

The sanitary detachment, following the visit of Major Carey here yesterday, was expecting orders any time today to proceed to Indianapolis tomorrow or Monday. It was authoritatively stated today that it was very probable that the detachment would not remain here longer than Monday. The men voted on the question yesterday, sixteen favoring remaining here and fifteen leaving.

In some circles the belief was expressed that the detachment would be called to Indianapolis tomorrow so as to participate Sunday in the big demonstration for Indiana soldiers soon to depart for France. The review will include several thousand Indiana guardsmen who are mobilized in Indianapolis preparatory to leaving for their training camp at Hattiesburg, Miss. The First Indiana Artillery Regiment, which is under orders to go to France, as well as Marion county young men who have been conscripted, will participate. Six bands will provide the music and the parade will pass over down-town streets in Indianapolis at 2:30 in the afternoon. Many from here will attend.

The sanitary detachment took a fourteen mile hike yesterday, but today the work was confined to drilling.

JOHNS MEET AGAIN

Muncie, Ind., Aug. 24.—Johns from several parts of the state were present at the twelfth annual reunion of the Johns, held at Riverside Park, Eaton, yesterday.

ALL AUXILIARIES IN COUNTY ACTIVE

Women of Gings Station and Plum Creek Open Sewing Room at Plum Creek Church

WILL MEET EACH MONDAY

Huge Bundles Come in From All Parts of County, Showing Work
Well and Neatly Done

The women in the Gings Station and Plum creek neighborhood opened a Red Cross sewing room this week at the Plum Creek Christian church. Twenty-one attended the first meeting. Some of the smaller garments were finished and ready to return. This auxiliary will meet at the Plum Creek church each Monday afternoon.

Since it has been ordered that the packing for shipment shall be done in the work room of the Rush county chapter here in Rushville, the auxiliaries have been requested to return their finished garments and all have responded promptly.

Huge bundles have come in from all parts of the county, showing work well and neatly done and reflecting much credit on the country women as seamstresses.

The Arlington auxiliary women sent in two clothes hampers full of articles yesterday, containing over a hundred hospital garments and nearly one hundred sheets and pillow cases.

Milroy has on hands over two hundred garments, the last of which are being finished this week. These will be packed at that place ready for shipment after being passed on by the inspector for the Rush county chapter.

Two hundred garments have been sent to Carthage in the last few days. These will be held there until finished and inspected and will be packed by that auxiliary ready for shipment.

The appeal for workers at the headquarters here in Rushville is growing more urgent as the days pass because of the way the work is piling up. In addition to meeting the request from the American Red Cross for the county's allotment of three hundred knitted sets, the chapter also has to respond to an appeal for supplies for the Fourth Indiana Infantry regimental hospital and for fifty pair of socks for the sanitary detachment. Besides all of this, the chapter has kept up its regular work, which includes the making of hospital supplies and surgical dressings.

PRESS FARTHER INTO CITY

Allies in Outskirts of Lens Engage in Fierce Battle.

London, Aug. 24.—In sanguinary fighting Canadian troops in the outskirts of Lens pressed still farther into the French coal city today.

"South of Lens there was fierce fighting," Field Marshal Haig reported, "as a result of which we hold German trenches immediately west of 'Green Crasshier.'"

The enemy losses were heavy, the statement declared.

Wheat Crop at County Farm Amounts to $1,111

The county's wheat crop, that raised at the county farm, netted a total of $1,111. A. N. Newbold, superintendent of the farm, made his settlement with the county today and while he did not have a very large acreage the high price boosted the amount over former years.

SEEK INJUNCTION TO STOP PAVING

Property Owners Resort to Suit to Prevent Improvement of Alley
Between 5th and 6th

ONCE POSTPONED, THEY SAY

Council Disposed to Let Improvement go Because of Danger of
Having to Pay For It

An injunction suit against the City of Rushville and Thomas S. Cauley, contractor, seeking to prevent the construction of a concrete alley, north from Fifth street to Sixth street, between Main and Perkins streets, was filed this afternoon by property owners who oppose the improvement.

The suit was brought by Locke L. Ferree, Philip Miller, Mrs. Margaret Johnson and Mrs. Catherine Thomas and was filed by Will L. Newbold and A. L. Gary, attorneys.

It is alleged that the contract for the alley paving was awarded to Cauley in an illegal manner and the complaint asserts that the records of the city show that on August 1, 1916 Councilman Wagoner moved the indefinite postponement of the proposed improvement. This motion carried, and then, according to the complaint, without any other step on September 1, Councilman Scudder moved that bids be received.

It is asserted in the complaint that the record made on Aug. 1 when the improvement was postponed had the effect of nullifying and making void all proceedings in relation to the improvement. It is alleged that the city council took no action of reviving or renewing the improvement after the postponement and then proceeded to receive bids and let the contract to Cauley, which according to the complaint, should not have been done under the record of the council.

It is alleged that the contractor for the alley improvement is threatening to start the work and that the plaintiffs to the action will be greatly damaged unless a perpetual injunction be granted.

The original petition for the alley improvement was filed by Val Conoway and several other owning property along the alley. The petitioners were in the majority and when a remonstrance was filed the council overruled the remonstrators.

Action of this sort has been expected by the city for some time and came as no surprise. This is one of the reasons why the work on the paving has not been rushed.

When the petition was filed there was some argument as to the city's responsibility, some holding that the city would likely have to pay for the entire improvement. To prevent anything like this occurring the petitioners, or some of them, signed an agreement that the city would not be held responsible and that they would see that the alley was paid for by the property owners. Shortly after this the agreement disappeared and the council was never able to get another. For this reason, if for nothing else, there is a disposition on the part of the city to let the improvement drop.

Washington, Aug. 24.—The United States government today extended a further credit of $100,000,000 to Russia. This was the government's answer to rumors that a Russian collapse was imminent.

Russia's credit is now $275,000,000. Plans for furnishing vast supplies have been completed.

PARTITION SUIT INVOLVES $10,000

Mrs. May Niensteadt of Detroit Brings Action Against John
A. Jones and Mrs. Bert Moses

FIVE HOUSES AND LOTS HERE

An action in partition in which the estate inherited by the late Elizabeth Richmond from her sister Mrs. Sarah Conrey, who at the time of her death lived in New York City, and which was then inherited by Mrs. Richmond's children, the late Mrs. John A. Jones and Mrs. Cora Moses, wife of Bert Moses of New York, is involved was filed today by Mrs. May McKendree Niensteadt of Detroit, Mich., who is a daughter of a deceased brother of late Mrs. Richmond. The suit is directed against John R. Jones and Cora Moses.

Mr. Jones inherited his wife's interest of the Richmond estate. Five houses and lots here valued at between $8,000 and $10,000 are involved in the suit. It is alleged that the late Mrs. Richmond settled the estate of Mrs. Conrey as being the only heir when the estate should have been equally divided between her and her brother, the late Edward J. McKendree, the father of the plaintiff. Mrs. Niensteadt asserts that the other parties are claiming a title to her share of the property and the court is asked to appoint a commissioner to sell the property and partition the proceeds. T. M. Green represents the plaintiff.

BILLS LIKE A VACCINATION

Blowing of Stumps Make Boys
Think They Are in Training for
Artillery Fire in France

(By Private W. D. English)

Camp Shelby, Hattiesburg, Miss., Aug. 22 (By Mail).—We awoke this morning in camp and all the different expressions and opinions that were used would undoubtedly fill a large book. From our train windows all we could see were buildings constructed of pine, pine trees and plenty of mud.

This place looks like a forest that needed clearing, but with 35,000 men at work it won't take long to make it look like a training camp. All we had for breakfast this morning was a cup of coffee as we have not yet been assigned our quarters.

One of the first things we heard and saw this morning was the blowing up of old stumps and from the noise they made some think we were already in training for the heavy artillery firing in France. I think we will have several new pets here if we are only able to train them. They are those nice large mosquitoes that are found here and when they inject their bills under your skin it reminds you of home and the fair grounds when Lieut. Green gave us the injections against fever.

There is a medical corps here from New York state but they are a sick bunch and hope they will be moved some place else. I remember reading in an Indianapolis paper two weeks ago an account that stated Camp Shelby would be in readiness by last week but if it is there must be another Camp Shelby.

We certainly were treated royally at Canton, Miss., where we were allowed off the train for forty-five minutes. The people of Canton gave us the privilege of using the swimming pool in the Y. M. C. A. and you should have seen the different expressions on the boys' faces after taking a good swim. Thus far we are the only Indiana company to arrive, although several more will be here in a few days.

To give you one impression the men first had of the camp one fellow said: "Well for mine they can send me to the firing line rather than stay here."

Capt. Kiplinger was certainly a busy man this morning trying to get us located in quarters.

New Statement From Vatican Am-

CASE OF BELGIUM EXCEPTION

By JOHN R. HURLEY
(Copyright, 1917 by the U. P.)
Rome, Aug. 24.—The United Press was authorized today by the papal secretary of state to make the following statement:

"The first two points in the pontifical appeal for peace, treating respectively of disarmament and freedom of the seas were suggested by President Wilson's well known message to the senate.

"Consequently we are inclined to believe that they will now find on the part of the American people, the same reception that they enjoyed when President Wilson pro-

RESTORATION IS INDORSED

By J. W. T. MASON
(Written for United Press.)
New York, Aug. 24.—Pope Benedict's explanation through the United Press of his peace plan is the most important move to end the war that any neutral power has yet made because it indorses, at least by inference, the all important demand of the allies for the restoration.

In this new statement the pope intimates that damage inflicted on Belgium must certainly be made good and probably the damage on other territories as well. If the pope is able to secure endorsement by Germany, the end of the war is in sight.

"Gen. Crowder has explained time after time," the statement declared, "that any man having persons wholly dependent upon him should be exempted from military service, regardless of whether that dependent is wife, child, brother, sister or parent, and regardless of whether the applicant for exemption is married or single."

"The local conscription board is presumed to investigate every case and claim of exemption and to use its own judgment in these cases, but it must follow the law and has no right to anticipate a change or amendment. It should not presume to take any other course than that specified in the conscription law."

The name of Levi Crull, Jr., has been taken off the list of registrants marked as not appearing for examination and therefore liable to be treated as a deserter. Crull asked permission from the board to be examined in South Dakota, where he was employed, after the time limit expired for making such a request. The local board had no authority to grant the request for that reason and could do nothing but list him as failing to report for examination. The board reported the matter to the district board which advised that his examination in South Dakota be recognized, which has been done, but the report on his examination has not been received back here.

"The third and fourth points wherein mutual condonation of war expenses and damages, as well as future restitution of occupied territory were formulated from public speeches recently delivered by statesmen of the different belligerent nations and resolutions passed by their respective parliaments.

"Therefore the same statesmen cannot rebuke them now. Moreover, it is necessary to remark as to condonation of damages caused by the war that there is an exception applying to Belgium.

"Finally the holy see wished to emphasize the fact that appeal was not suggested by any of the belligerent powers.

"Finally the holy father said nothing about democracy and the democratization of any existing government because history teaches us that a form of government imposed by arms does and cannot live and so out of respect for the free will of the people themselves, who, having the right of universal suffrage may choose whatever form of government they may please."

BOY HUNTER KILLED

Warsaw, Ind., Aug. 24.—Devere Bloom, 15 years old, died yesterday of injuries received when he was accidentally shot while hunting squirrels near his home at Claypool. LAKE COUNTY SETS NEW MURDER MARK

More Committee First 7 and Half Months Than Recorded in Canada in 1916.

17 HOMICIDES SINCE JAN. 1

For This Red Record of Death, Not One Person Has Paid the Death Penalty.

(By United Press.)

Hammond, Aug. 22.—More murders have been committed in Lake county during the first seven and a half months of this year than were recorded in the entire Dominion of Canada, with its 10,000,000 people during 1916.

The record of homicides in the county since Jan. 1 has reached the staggering total of 17, and police apparently are powerless to halt the crime wave. In all of Canada last year, only 12 persons were murdered.

For this red record of death, not one person has paid the supreme penalty in the electric chair at Michigan City.

Agitation for more effective protection of life in the county was begun today by Coroner J. A. Graham, who made public the crime record for the first seven and a half months of the year.

"Stop the carrying of concealed weapons by heavy fines and jail sentences," said the coroner, "and Lake county will no longer have reasons to be ashamed of its crime record."

Coroner Graham made public the following list of murders in the county so far this year:

Louis Pratt, 25, Indiana Harbor, homicide by shooting, January 15; Mary D. Taylor, 36, Gary, homicide by shooting, February 2; Fred E. Higgins, 25, homicide by shooting, February 20, at Hammond; Will Farrell, 40, Crown Point, homicide by shooting; John Lubar, 44, Indiana Harbor, homicide by shooting, April 7; Eugene De Bartola, 15, East Chicago, homicide by shooting, April 14; Julia Bogosowski, 6, Gary, raped and murdered, June 6; Mike Gazes, 22, Gary, homicide by stab wounds, May 14; Hanna Nelson, 47, East Chicago, homicide by shooting, June 13; Alec Witasas, 33, East Chicago, homicide by shooting, June 23; Louis Szalac, 45, East Chicago, killed by blow over head, July 7; W. Carl Spradley, 28, Gary, homicide by stab wound, July 27; Max Hess, Hammond, homicide by shooting, July 24; William Stradley, guard at Gary steel mills, stabbed and killed, July 9; Mrs. Mary Sikora, East Chicago, (coroner's verdict, murder), July 29; Herman Schaub, Hammond, homicide by shooting (died in Indiana) August 5, and Tofin Muzak, East Chicago, homicide by shooting, August 10.

FRENCH TARS HERE FORM FRIENDSHIPS

Do Not Wait For American Sailors To Reach France To Become Acquainted

LANGUAGE IS NO BAR TO THEM

(By United Press.)

An Atlantic Port, Aug. 22.—American and French sailors do not wait until they arrive in France to fraternize. The French tars are here with French ships lying in the harbor, while American sailors by the thousands are at a navy-yard nearby.

Residents witnessed a novel sight recently. Four of Uncle Sam's sailors and four from France paraded the main thoroughfare on a sight seeing tour. The men were paired and each man wound his arm about the other's waist.

Pals they were despite the fact that they could not understand each other's language. Apparently it made no difference.

HOUSTON RULED BY MARTIAL LAW

Sixteen Known Dead in Rioting of 24th United States Infantry, A Negro Regiment

STATIONED AT CAMP LOGAN

Over Score of Men, Women And Children Are Wounded—Dead Civilians, Police, Guardsmen

TROOPERS TO BE MOVED

(By United Press.)

Washington, Aug. 24.—Negro regulars who engaged in last night's riot at Houston, Tex., will be moved at once from that city, secretary of War Baker announced today.

(By United Press.)

Houston, Tex., Aug. 24.—Regular soldiers from Galveston are on their way to Houston, to assist citizens and national guardsmen in preventing a renewal of the rioting by negro soldiers that last night resulted in the death of 14 whites and two negroes.

The city was under martial law while Illinois troops guarded street cars, alleys and every street leading to Camp Logan, north of the city, where the rioting started.

While no violence was reported today, excitement was running high. Expulsion of the negro regiment was demanded in street meetings. The trouble started, according to the police, when a policeman arrested a negro woman at Camp Logan.

A negro soldier, escorting the woman, objected, the police said, and was arrested. Another negro interfered and he, too, was arrested. This was the signal for a general mobilization of the negroes and 80 of them, fully armed marched into the city pouring shot into the homes wherever a light showed.

A search began for dead in the rioting of members of the Twenty-fourth United States Infantry, a negro regiment at Camp Logan, the new national cantonment for Illinois troops.

The known dead were 16 at mid-day, but many more are believed to have been killed. The dead were white men, civilians, police officers and national guardsmen.

Upwards of a score of persons, men, women and children were wounded. It is not yet known how many negroes were killed.

It was reported that twelve persons injured in the rioting had been taken to hospitals.

The camp is situated eight miles out from Houston and with soldiers barring the way and the telephone wires down, information regarding the trouble is difficult to obtain. The camp was being guarded by Illinois soldiers.

C. N. Wright, a civil engineer, was shot in the thigh. He was taken to a hospital. T. Binford, a city detective, was shot in the leg. It was said the two girls were seriously wounded.

ON THEIR WAY TO DALLAS

Negro Troopers Who Rioted Escape From Houston

Dallas, Tex., Aug. 24.—Houston police early today notified Dallas officials that a number of armed negro soldiers of the Twenty-fourth U. S. Infantry, who rioted last night at Camp Logan near Houston, were on their way to Dallas.

The negro soldiers made their escape on a Houston and Texas Central train, according to the Houston police. It is not stated why the troopers were coming to Dallas. Police reserves were rushed to Hutchins, 12 miles south of Dallas to meet the negro soldiers and arrest them.

DESERTION IS CHARGED.

Lafayette, Ind., Aug. 24.—James Peakin, a private of Battery C, was arrested yesterday at the home of his mother and is charged with desertion. Peakin took French leave on two previous occasions, came to this city and was returned by the police.

An Old Scheme

Reports have been coming in of the sale of crops "in the field," in advance of the harvest, to be delivered on the order of the buyer, or to be harvested by the buyer at his pleasure.

Past experience has shown our people that in many instances these crops are never harvested. This is not oversight on the part of the purchaser, as some credulous persons might think. It is deliberate and with a purpose. The crops are bought with this possible end in view.

Our food hogs are shrewd. Government and state reports presage a record production of food crops this year. In the natural order of things this would be bound to lower prices to some extent, even in the face of the heavy foreign demand. But this is just what the food speculator does not wish to see occur. To avoid it he must evolve some plan to "retire" a greater or less proportion of the crop from the markets. Hence they are bought up "in the field"—and, if our officials are not careful, many of them will rot in the field.

The farmers are loyal to the core and will not connive at a practice that tends to both waste and extortion.

Loyal farmers, it is up to you to see that the purchaser of your crops—provided you have sold any "in the field"—moves these crops at the proper time. In case they are not so moved, and loss or even waste is threatened, it is your sacred duty as a loyal citizen to notify the authorities in charge of the food situation at Washington, and you should do this while there is yet time to save the crop.

Our sons and brothers in France are going to need every ounce of our produce that we can send them. Let us see that none of it goes to waste through the "carelessness" of these speculators.

Labor And $2 Wheat

Senator James H. Brady of Idaho is a practical farmer. He has experienced many demonstrations of the increasing price of labor, and says that he is now paying from three to four dollars a day for men whom formerly he could secure for two dollars. Men engaged in irrigation work on his farms Senator Brady is compelled to pay $110 a month and board, which is fifty per cent more than he had to pay before the war. In view of those facts, and the corresponding increase in the price of farming materials, Mr. Brady thinks that the guaranteed price in the food bill of $2 a bushel for wheat is not at all excessive, and will give the farmers no more profit than they have been accustomed to. Senator Brady was an earnest advocate of that measure, and did everything in his power to hasten its enactment.

Wisconsin Unwavering

It is a pleasing relief, after the remarks of certain Senators, to read the memorial of the Legislature of Wisconsin which was presented to the House the other day by Congressman Edward E. Browne of that State. The document pledges the

Beauties of The Corn Belt

By (Robert E. Mansfield)

There are few more beautiful or more interesting sights than that presented by the fields of waving corn that flank the roads in Indiana at this season of the year. In serried ranks it rises on every side, in many instances extending as far as the vision reaches, the graceful fronds waiving in the sunshine and rustling in the breezes, while above the walls of verdure rise the tassels, resembling spiked helmets crowning the individual stalks. From the tip of each growing ear protrudes a silken skein, giving a touch of color, and adding interest to the scene.

The corn presents a beautiful picture from the time the tender shoots appear above the ground in the spring until it is gathered into shocks or stands in russet ranks at husking time in the late autumn. When the frost king has laid his withering hand upon the corn, and the ears hang like pendants from the stalks, or piled in golden heaps in barns and bins, corn forms the most attractive feature of the Indiana landscape. And it also constitutes the chief source of wealth in the Hoosier state.

Corn in the United States means maize only, or maize in its different varieties. There is field corn (red, white and yellow,) sweet corn, pop corn, kafir corn, and broom corn, and the traveler from east to west through the corn belt will pass through a thousand miles of tasseled stalks. It extends from the Allegheny to the Rocky mountains, and between the foothills of these two ranges lies the valley of the Mississippi which, in season is a vast sea of corn.

There is always the question as to the center of the corn belt. For many years Illinois has claimed pre-eminence in corn production, but Indiana and Iowa are close seconds, and around these are grouped Ohio, Kentucky, Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska, while forming a border around the eastern and southern sections of the country are Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee, Arkansas, Texas and Oklahoma, all contributing to the tremendous yield of the nation's most potential source of wealth.

Taking central Illinois as a starting point, and drawing a circle one thousand miles in diameter, the area covered will include the American corn belt. Within that radius corn loyal support of the State of Wisconsin and its citizens to the President and the Government in the prosecution of the war. There is, perhaps, a larger German-American population in Wisconsin than in any other State, but that the sentiment of those citizens and of the State at large is patriotically supporting the war is amply demonstrated by the action of the Legislature.

Secretary of Commerce Redfield has written a letter commending a lighthouse keeper in Chicago for his service in aiding to save a man who had fallen off a pier. The commendation is well merited, but one cannot help recalling in this connection that Secretary Redfield never punished the officers whose negligence resulted in the overturning of the "Eastland" and the drowning of some 1200 men, women and children.

The Official Bulletin contains the announcement that the Red Cross has appropriated $10,000 to rid the Columbia, South Carolina, cantonment of malaria. Hurrah for the Red Cross; but what shall we say of the authorities that located a cantonment at that place.

Kerensky, it is said, is thinking of reopening that Siberian summer resort. For America, you know, is not the only country in which slackers and traitors thrive.

It remained for the American army mules in France to give Pershing's troops their most rousing reception.

is king, and there will be found the ideal climate and conditions for the highest development of this valuable cereal. The broad prairies and the fertile valleys of Illinois, Indiana, and Iowa furnish the best soil for the production of corn. Here the rainfall during the spring and early summer is usually sufficient to provide moisture for the proper nourishment of the growing corn, and the intense heat of July and August furnishes the conditions necessary for maturing the grain. And the late autumn, designated as "Indian Summer", seems a wise provision of nature for ripening the corn and preparing it for the harvest.

But there is a real corn belt, a limited region, watered by the rivers embraced by the two great arms of the Ohio and Mississippi, especially the lands that lie along the Wabash and Sangamon rivers, the lowlands of Indiana, and the prairies of Illinois. The territory watered by these streams and their tributaries is the greatest corn producing region in America.

The corn belt, especially Indiana, has achieved distinctions that command nation-wide recognition in other lines than that of the production of corn. It is recognized as the literary center of America. Here has developed a literary cult that is peculiar to, and characteristic of the middle west. The people beside the Wabash and the Sangamon are the most characteristically American to be found anywhere on the continent. Here in the bosom of the prairies, in the heart of the great forests, and beside the lakes and rivers, the incipient soul of America was to be found in the early years before the civil war; here is the center of population, and here in this fertile region has been developed a great industrial and intellectual center. These were and still are the romance people of America. Into these strange lands of malaria and mysticism, of feuds and kindly fellowship, entered, and has been centered the best of whatever we have received of ancient, or developed in modern chivalry.

The corn belt is the most productive, the most prosperous, and will ultimately become the most populous region in the United States. In agricultural, industrial, educational and intellectual development, it is making more rapid progress than any section of country on the American continent.

MUCH FOOD IS WASTED AT TABLE

State Food Administrator For Indiana Declares One-Tenth of Cost Is Lost

HE SUGGESTS A FIXED RATION

No Reason Why Everyone Should Not Have Enough If Right Practice Is Followed

Indianapolis, Aug. 24.—One-tenth of the farms of the country grow food that is wasted at the table, and more than one-tenth of all the cost of food and service is utterly lost.

These facts were emphasized today by Harry E. Barnard, food administrator, of Indiana, in an article written for the United Press, in which he urged a return to the old-fashioned "second helping" idea in table service as a means of eliminating food waste.

"In institutions, each inmate gets a fixed amount of food," Barnard said. "In the army every soldier is served his ration. The allowance is based on the idea that a certain, definite amount of food is necessary to sustain life and do work. But some individuals need more food than others. They weigh different amounts, they do different work. Some are what we call 'heavy eaters' others are content with less. There must be some waste when a fixed food allowance is measured out unless that amount is held so low that the danger of under nourishment is always present.

"In the home there is neither the need for waste nor poor feeding. It is only necessary to lay down a new table rule, if you want more ask for it, and then to make each individual serving no larger than will surely be eaten.

"It may not be necessary to urge some stewards to serve smaller portions, but in general it is a fact that the waste in good food because of too large portions is far too great. Every fragment of uneaten bread, every bit of undesired meat or vegetable, is a part of a wastage that totals millions of pounds every day. One-tenth of the farms of this country grow food that is wasted at the table, more than one-tenth of all the cost of food and service is utterly lost.

"There is no reason why everyone should not have all the food he wants and the practice of second helpings at the home table or in the restaurant should be encouraged."

TRIES TO MAKE TAX UNPOPULAR

This is Charged Against Senator LaFollette, Who is Accused of Disloyalty.

HIS EFFORT LOSES, 58 TO 21

Opposition Says it Can Muster Enough Votes to Retain Income Taxes in Bill.

Washington, August 24.—After another's debate embittered by charges that those desiring to make the war unpopular and embarrass the administration were behind the movement to greatly increase tax rates in the war tax bill, the Senate late Thursday rejected 58 to 21 Sen. LaFollette's amendment to raise $658,784,000 from individuals' incomes instead of $490,164,000 as proposed in the bill.

The fight to increase the income tax rates was to be resumed today, with partisan lines lost. Senator LaFollette has pending two more substitutes for the income tax schedule, proposing to levy about $600,000,000 and $505,000,000 respectively, and Senator Hollis, late today introduced another substitute proposing to raise about $550,000,000.

Leaders opposing further increases expressed confidence after the initial vote on the first and maximum substitute of the Wisconsin senator, that they would muster enough votes to retain the income rates now in the bill. They were not so sanguine, however, of preventing an increase in the rates on war profits, which may be reached Saturday.

In heated discussion preceding today's voting, Senator Simmons, chairman of the finance committee, and Senator LaFollette clashed sharply over the latter's amendment. Senator Simmons gave vigorous expression of sentiments which for several days have smoldered in private cloakroom discussion by declaring that interests seeking to embarrass the administration, and against the war policy, were interested in making the bill unpopular by increasing its tax burden.

Senator LaFollette retorted with a denunciation of any attempt to question the loyalty of those advocating a greater tax levy and the charge that the bill as drawn indicated "devotion to big incomes and the war profits."

UNITED PARTY IS BEHIND BORDEN

Has Advantage in Canada's October Election Because of This Fact —Two Great Parties

FIGHT IS ON CONSCRIPTION

Liberals and Conservatives Seek to Control New Government Over War Policy

(By United Press.)

Ottawa, Canada, August 24.—To define Canadian political designations in American terms, the Liberal would be a Democrat in the United States. The Conservative would be a Republican. Party organizations are more rigid in Canada than they are now in the United States but in both the Liberal and Conservative parties there is the natural grouping of progressive and reactionary elements.

Both party organizations have been hard hit in the fight over the conscription issue which will culminate in the general election next fall. The anti-conscriptionist Liberal party (the "outs") under Laurier's leadership are going into the fight with the solid support of the province of Quebec. Quebec returns sixty-five seats to the House of Commons. Conservatives concede that Laurier will control at least sixty of them. Quebec is the "solid south" of Canada.

There are 500,000 Germans and Austrians in Canada, chiefly located in western provinces. Public opinion is that this vote will be almost solidly Liberal. Along with this vote there will be what Conservatives call the "slacker vote" or the support of men who have not enlisted. This will be important without question. Laurier too has a certain advantage in that fact that over 3,000,000 of the most progressive and aggressive of Canada's men are in war duty in Europe. There strength would be strongly pro conscription.

While Canadian soldiers can vote, previous efforts along that line have shown the difficulties of conducting an election along the fighting front are tremendous. But twenty percent of the soldier vote of British Columbia was cast and counted in a recent provincial election.

It is upon these forces, the French-Canadian vote, the alien, the "slacker" and the "died in the wool" Liberal party man, that Sir Wilfred bases his hopes of success.

On the Conservative side it is freely admitted that the outlook for success is not the brightest. Yet Borden has many sources of strength. He has behind him a far more united party than Laurier. He has the support of the British Liberal Party. Early in the campaign a proposal for a coalition government was proposed to Laurier but refused by him. Now there is very strong talk of a Unionist government made up of Conservatives and "Win the War" Liberals.

This in the line up in Canada. They have brands of political hook-nm over there that have never been smoked on this side of the lakes and every pipe is going to be put to it, full blast.

Spread the Meat Flavor

Spread the meat flavor and so economize on the amount of meat consumed, says the United States Department of Agriculture. Here is a suggestion for making a delicious dish from an inexpensive steak.

Mock Duck

On a round steak cut thin, place a stuffing of bread crumbs well seasoned with chopped onions, butter or other fat, salt, pepper, and flavorings such as sage, celery seed, etc., if desired. Roll the steak around the stuffing and tie in several places with a string. If the steak is tough steam or stew the roll until tender before roasting in the oven.

If desired, the roll may be cooked in a casserole, in which case a cupful or more of water should be added.

AMERICANS GET MILITARY CROSS

Two Are Decorated For Bravery Under Fire By King George One Was Wounded

IN ACTION AT VIMY RIDGE

(By United Press.)

London, Aug. 1, (By mail).—Two American lieutenants of the Canadian Army today wear the Military Cross as a reward for their bravery and leadership under fire. A. H. Pannill, of Chatham, Va., and Donald MacRae, of Washington, D. C. whose father is in the adjutant-general's office—were decorated by King George in recognition of their valor.

Pannill, at Vimy Ridge took command of a company, captured part of a second-line trench and established a machine-gun position in a crater beyond the trench. His command suffered severe casualties. Pannill himself, though wounded by shrapnel, remained on the job for 24 hours consolidating the gains. He was transferred to the Royal Flying Corps.

MacRae found that his major's crown was keeping him out of action because the army needed active lieutenants and was plentifully supplied with major officers. The Washington man was so anxious to fight that he "pulled two stars" from his sleeve and took the rank of lieutenant. The act for which he received the Military Cross was performed on the Vimy front some time before the big assault.

DIFFERENCE BETWEEN DRAFT NOW AND IN 1865

On October 16, 1861, the old files show, a call was issued for volunteers for companies in the Fifty-Second Indiana Infantry, which was authorized by Governor Morton to be recruited in the fourth congressional district and adjoining counties. Rush county was then in the fourth district. The companies of the Fifty-Second mobilized at the fair grounds, which was then designated as Camp Rush. George W. Thomas and the late Judge Cullen were each authorized to raise a company for the regiment.

In those days as now, appeals were sent out for surplus blankets, socks, gloves and mittens. But the volunteers then had no organization back of them like the Red Cross to look after their needs.

The drawing of men for the draft was explained in the issue of Wednesday, October 8, 1862, in the following language:

"The draft took place in this county last Monday (October 6, 1862), in pursuance of orders. The citizens of the several townships to be drafted manifested a great degree of interest in the proceedings; but everything passed off satisfactorily and without any disturbance whatever. The commissioner, L. Sexton, Esq., allowed time for correcting the enrollment and for volunteering up to the last moment.

"Messrs. George Hibben, Reu Pugh, E. P. Schlater, George B. Sleeth and Samuel Atherton were selected by Mr. Sexton, as a committee to assist him in conducting the draft. The names of all persons liable to draft for each township, together with the number of the names on the envelope, were written on slips of paper, all of equal size. These names were carefully compared with the enrollment lists, by the committee, and then each name placed in an envelope, and the envelopes for each township placed in a wrapper and sealed securely. A box was provided with an opening at the top large enough to admit a man's hand. The package containing the names of a township was opened by J. R. Mitchell, Esq., provost marshal for Rush county, in presence of a number of persons selected from each township to witness the drawing. Col. C. W. McReynolds was selected to draw the ballots, and was properly blindfolded for that purpose. This selection was mutual between the commissioner and the committee from each township. The box was shaken prior to the drawing of each ballot, and ballots drawn successively until the required number for each township was drawn out, when the box was emptied and the ballots placed in the hands of the township committees to count. There could be no possible chance for any unfairness in the draft, and everybody present was satisfied on this point. In the forenoon the "conscientious men" were drafted and in the afternoon the "fighting" class."

COMPANY B WILL HAVE SOME NEW PETS

 To show how small the big world is we met Ed Smith, formerly of Rushville in Jackson, Miss., and several fellows have found acquaintances in the camp already. We have already had our pictures taken for the newspapers. The captain had an awful time trying to find someone in camp who could tell him something. He spent thirty-five minutes before he could find an officer and then he was still out of luck. It seems as if no one knows what is going on and as a last resort Capt. Kiplinger took the initiative and did as he pleased.
 The mess halls and kitchens look fine—what there is of them—and I suppose in a few days we will be properly fixed out.
 Very few of the boys had the "blues" on the way down here, but some of them are now beginning to look "down at the mouth." They are complaining about the heat and it is only 8 o'clock in the morning so by dinner time they will have a real kick coming.
 I hope to have an opportunity to inspect the camp and country more thoroughly within a few days.

"ORDERS IS ORDERS"

Hattiesburg, Miss., August 24.—Sergt. Stapp of Company B of the Fourth Indiana Regiment, a new soldier who recently won his spurs, spent a sleepless night on arrival of the troops here. He had been ordered by Capt. Kiplinger to dispatch a wire to headquarters at Charleston, S. C., immediately on arrival of the troops here. The train arrived in the wee hours of the morning and the telegraph operator had gone to roost. With the command in his mind, Sergt. Stapp called up New Orleans by long distance and managed to get hold of a wide-awake operator at the telegraph station. He dictated the message over the wire and reached the cantonment when the sun was high in the heavens.

He was non-pulsed when informed by his superior that he might have waited till morning with his message instead of rousing the entire service at Charleston out of bed. Sergt. Stapp lost some sleep, but in his reply to his bantering comrades said: "Well, I still insist that orders is orders."

The Weber Always Leads

ABOUT 1845, when the first Weber was built, you could not buy a better wagon than a Weber. There were no better built. Weber made “the best” his standard.

That was over seventy years ago, but the standard has been the same every year since. You know that, from the good work you have seen Weber wagons doing. You know they have been always popular.

We can show you, if you come in, that “the best” is the Weber standard to-day. We want to show the wagon to you in the up-to-date form, with every improvement, some of which you can't find on any other make of wagon.

You can see, here in the store, the new fifth wheel, the folding end gate, the link end rods, the strong construction of gears, wheels, and boxes. Come in the first chance you have and see this wagon.

Y. W. C. A. FACES BIG RED CROSS GUARDS TASK IN WAR WORK AGAINST DISEASES

National Board is Confronted With Responsibility of Safeguarding Moral Conditions.

AROUND THE TRAINING CAMPS

European Countries Also Seek Trained American Women For Work There.

(By United Press.)

New York, Aug. 24.—“Safeguard the girls” is the burden of scores of letters pouring into the national headquarters of the Young Women's Christian Association at New York City.

The National Board of the Y. W. C. A. is confronted with an immense responsibility for helping safeguard moral conditions in the neighborhood of training camps and for providing for the welfare of women in special industries created by the unusual conditions of war.

A still further responsibility has been brought to them by cable from European countries asking for trained American women to help in the constructive programs for new life among women in Russia, France and England.

Through the National Board of the Y. W. C. A. has assembled on its War Work Council a number of women known from ocean to ocean for their public spirited interest on all that affects a community.

Requests have come from a large number of the centers near which troops are being quartered for experienced workers and secretaries to work with local Y. W. C. A.'s in organizing the young women and girls of the various communities with a view to counteracting the natural attraction which the uniform has for young girls.

Admiration for uniforms is based on a deeper admiration for the manliness and courage of those who are to go to the front. The lure of the khaki may be made a summons to dignity in the girl and manliness in the soldier.

At various training and concentration camps trained secretaries of the Y. W. C. A. are on the spot gathering up all the resources of the community which can be made to serve the interests of the young women and girls.

There will be a number of cantonments in centers where no large city exists. To these the Y. W. C. A. is giving special attention.

Hostess houses, where women relatives and friends of the soldiers may have a home-like place to meet their soldier friends, are being built.

WANT ADS BRING RESULTS

Will Equip Five Laboratory Railroad Cars For Emergency Work in Cantonment Camps.

STAFF OF 5 EXPERTS ON EACH

Will be so Stationed as to be Able to Reach Any Camp Within 24 Hours After Call.

Washington, Aug. 24.—The Medical Advisory Committee of the Red Cross War Council has just decided to equip five laboratory railroad cars which will be prepared for emergency work against possible outbreaks of epidemics in cantonment camps in this country.

Each car will have a staff of five or more experts and will be so stationed at various cities that any cantonment can be reached with one of these laboratory cars within twenty-four hours on receipt of request from federal or state authorities.

Dr. R. M. Pearce, Secretary of the Medical Advisory Committee, in explaining the plan said:

“In sudden emergencies such as epidemics of meningitis or diphtheria, either inside a military encampment or in the vicinity, a great deal of highly specialized laboratory work will be necessary for proper control of the epidemic. Although laboratories will be established in each district, sufficient for ordinary requirements, these may have neither the equipment nor the staff to meet such emergencies, and to enlarge all of these laboratories would be excessively expensive.

“The setting up of an emergency laboratory always involves loss of time and some confusion. The most practical way to meet the requirements is to have several laboratory cars, fully equipped and distributed at various points throughout the country, so that one may be delivered at any point within twenty-four hours. Various large laboratories will furnish volunteer staffs of the most competent men in the country, held in readiness to respond immediately to any call. By this arrangement a fully equipped laboratory with experienced staff, prepared to begin work at once, will be immediately available wherever needed.”

The U. S. Public Health Service has such a mobile laboratory unit and Surgeon General Rupert Blue said the Red Cross cars would prove of the greatest assistance in the control of civilian sanitary districts. The plan has also been commended by the Surgeons General of the United States Army and Navy.

NEAR WHITE HOUSE GROUNDS

(By United Press.)

Washington, August 24.—Up on Pennsylvania avenue, at the Southwest corner of the White House grounds, Steve Vasilakos and his peanut-stand hold forth.

Steve, a burly, fierce-mustached Greek, stands scowling beside his wailing little nickel plated whistle and his stack of goobers from early morning until late at night.

Just to look at him, you'd think he neither knew nor cared whether there was a war or not. There is about him an air of gross commercialism.

But today, scowling and crusty as usual, he tacked this sign, daubed with red paint on white cardboard, over his stand:

“I GIVE MY ENTIRE PROCEEDS THIS WEEK TO THE RED CROSS.”

NINETY CERTIFIED FROM THIS COUNTY

Army Selection Board Discovers
That It Overlooked The Name of
Frank H. Carr

ANOTHER CASE IS APPEALED

Conscription Agent Says Boards
Shouldn't Take Any Course Except Provided in Law

In checking up the lists the local selection board found one additional name that should have been certified to the district board for army service. In some manner the name of Frank H. Carr, son of Milt Carr of near New Salem, was overlooked. His name was certified to the board today. He had passed the examination and asked exemption because he thought he was in military service. Carr had enlisted as a member of a local cavalry organization, but as this was not in the federal service, the board certified his name.

Frank Carr makes the second son of Milt Carr who has been certified for service. The first was Robert Bruce Carr, who has been admitted to the second officer's training camp at Fort Harrison. Robert Carr was also certified for service in the national army, but will take the training course at Fort Harrison. The county will get credit for him on its quota. With the certifying of the second Carr boy the total number of names certified for service is brought up to ninety.

Thus far only one appeal from the findings of the local board on the list of men certified for service posted yesterday has been taken. Byron Wainwright filed notice of appeal. Wainwright claimed exemption on the grounds that his parents were dependent upon him and in his affidavit swore he contributed the sum of $400 yearly towards their support.

Some of the men listed by the local board as being ready for service have filed claims directly with the district board but as the local board has no record of these claims it is impossible to tell how many of these claims have been filed. Any attempt to state the number of claims filed with the district board for exemption on occupational grounds is therefore merely guess work.

Jesse E. Eschbach, state conscription agent, sent explicit instructions to members of local boards today to follow closely the conscription law. The cause of his

Sanitary Detachment Expects Orders
at Any Moment to Depart For Indianapolis Tomorrow.

MAY TAKE PART IN BIG REVIEW

The sanitary detachment, following the visit of Major Carey here yesterday, was expecting orders any time today to proceed to Indianapolis tomorrow or Monday. It was authoritatively stated today that it was very probable that the detachment would not remain here longer than Monday. The men voted on the question yesterday, sixteen favoring remaining here and fifteen leaving.

In some circles the belief was expressed that the detachment would be called to Indianapolis tomorrow so as to participate Sunday in the big demonstration for Indiana soldiers soon to depart for France. The review will include several thousand Indiana guardsmen who are mobilized in Indianapolis preparatory to leaving for their training camp at Hattiesburg, Miss. The First Indiana Artillery Regiment, which is under orders to go to France, as well as Marion county young men who have been conscripted, will participate. Six bands will provide the music and the parade will pass over down-town streets in Indianapolis at 2:30 in the afternoon. Many from here will attend.

The sanitary detachment took a fourteen mile hike yesterday, but today the work was confined to drilling.

Parts of County, Showing Work
Well and Neatly Done

The women in the Gings Station and Plum creek neighborhood opened a Red Cross sewing room this week at the Plum Creek Christian church. Twenty-one attended the first meeting. Some of the smaller garments were finished and ready to return. This auxiliary will meet at the Plum Creek church each Monday afternoon.

Since it has been ordered that the packing for shipment shall be done in the work room of the Rush county chapter here in Rushville, the auxiliaries have been requested to return their finished garments and all have responded promptly.

Huge bundles have come in from all parts of the county, showing work well and neatly done and reflecting much credit on the country women as seamstresses.

The Arlington auxiliary women sent in two clothes hampers full of articles yesterday, containing over a hundred hospital garments and nearly one hundred sheets and pillow cases.

Milroy has on hands over two hundred garments, the last of which are being finished this week. These will be packed at that place ready for shipment after being passed on by the inspector for the Rush county chapter.

Two hundred garments have been sent to Carthage in the last few days. These will be held there until finished and inspected and will be packed by that auxiliary ready for shipment.

The appeal for workers at the headquarters here in Rushville is growing more urgent as the days pass because of the way the work is piling up. In addition to meeting the request from the American Red Cross for the county's allotment of three hundred knitted sets, the chapter also has to respond to an appeal for supplies for the Fourth Indiana Infantry regimental hospital and for fifty pair of socks for the sanitary detachment. Besides all of this, the chapter has kept up its regular work, which includes the making of hospital supplies and surgical dressings.

SEEK INJUNCTION TO STOP PAYING

Property Owners Resort to Suit to Prevent Improvement of Alley
Between 5th and 6th

ONCE POSTPONED, THEY SAY

Council Disposed to Let Improvement-go Because of Danger of
Having to Pay For It

An injunction suit against the City of Rushville and Thomas S. Cauley, contractor, seeking to prevent the construction of a concrete alley, north from Fifth street to Sixth street, between Main and Perkins streets, was filed this afternoon by property owners who oppose the improvement.

The suit was brought by Locke L. Ferree, Philip Miller, Mrs. Margaret Johnson and Mrs. Catherine Thomas and was filed by Will L. Newbold and A. L. Gary, attorneys.

It is alleged that the contract for the alley paving was awarded to Cauley in an illegal manner and the complaint asserts that the records of the city show that on August 1, 1916 Councilman Wagoner moved the indefinite postponement of the proposed improvement. This motion carried, and then, according to the complaint, without any other step on September 1, Councilman Seudder moved that bids be received.

It is asserted in the complaint that the record made on Aug. 1 when the improvement was postponed had the effect of nullifying and making void all proceedings in relation to the improvement. It is alleged that the city council took no action of reviving or renewing the improvement after the postponement and then proceeded to receive bids and let the contract to Cauley, which according to the complaint, should not have been done under the record of the council.

It is alleged that the contractor for the alley improvement is threatening to start the work and that the plaintiffs to the action will be greatly damaged unless a perpetual injunction be granted.

The original petition for the alley improvement was filed by Val Conway and several other owning property along the alley. The petitioners were in the majority and when a remonstrance was filed the council overruled the remonstrators.

Action of this sort has been expected by the city for some time and came as no surprise. This is one of the reasons why the work on the paving has not been rushed.

When the petition was filed there was some argument as to the city's responsibility, some holding that the city would likely have to pay for the entire improvement. To prevent anything like this occurring the petitioners, or some of them, signed an agreement that the city would not be held responsible and that they would see that the alley was paid for by the property owners. Shortly after this the agreement disappeared and the council was never able to get another. For this reason, if for nothing else, there is a disposition on the part of the city to let the improvement drop.

FIVE HOUSES AND LOTS HERE

An action in partition in which the estate inherited by the late Elizabeth Richmond from her sister Mrs. Sarah Conrey, who at the time of her death lived in New York City, and which was then inherited by Mrs. Richmond's children, the late Mrs. John A. Jones and Mrs. Cora Moses, wife of Bert Moses of New York, is involved was filed today by Mrs. May McKendree Niensteadt of Detroit, Mich., who is a daughter of a deceased brother of late Mrs. Richmond. The suit is directed against John R. Jones and Cora Moses.

Mr. Jones inherited his wife's interest of the Richmond estate. Five houses and lots here valued at between $8,000 and $10,000 are involved in the suit. It is alleged that the late Mrs. Richmond settled the estate of Mrs. Conrey as being the only heir when the estate should have been equally divided between her and her brother, the late Edward J. McKendree, the father of the plaintiff. Mrs. Niensteadt asserts that the other parties are claiming a title to her share of the property and the court is asked to appoint a commissioner to sell the property and partition the proceeds. T. M. Green represents the plaintiff.

BILLS LIKE A VACCINATION

Blowing of Stumps Make Boys
Think They Are in Training for
Artillery Fire in France

(By Private W. D. English)

Camp Shelby, Hattiesburg, Miss., Aug. 22 (By Mail).—We awoke this morning in camp and all the different expressions and opinions that were used would undoubtedly fill a large book. From our train windows all we could see were buildings constructed of pine, pine trees and plenty of mud.

This place looks like a forest that needed clearing, but with 35,000 men at work it won't take long to make it look like a training camp. All we had for breakfast this morning was a cup of coffee as we have not yet been assigned our quarters.

One of the first things we heard and saw this morning was the blowing up of old stumps and from the noise they made some think we were already in training for the heavy artillery firing in France. I think we will have several new pets here if we are only able to train them. They are those nice large mosquitoes that are found here and when they inject their bills under your skin it reminds you of home and the fair grounds when Lient. Green gave us the injections against fever.

There is a medical corps here from New York state but they are a sick bunch and hope they will be moved some place else. I remember reading in an Indianapolis paper two weeks ago an account that stated Camp Shelby would be in readiness by last week but if it is there must be another Camp Shelby.

We certainly were treated royally at Canton, Miss., where we were allowed off the train for forty-five minutes. The people of Canton gave us the privilege of using the swimming pool in the Y. M. C. A. and you should have seen the different expressions on the boys' faces after taking a good swim. Thus far we are the only Indiana company to arrive, although several more will be here in a few days.

To give you one impression the men first had of the camp one fellow said: "Well for mine they can send me to the firing line rather than stay here."

Capt. Kiplinger was certainly a busy man this morning trying to get us located in quarters.

New York, Aug. 24.—Pope Benedict's explanation through the United Press of his peace plan is the most important move to end the war that any neutral power has yet made because it indorses, at least by inference, the all important demand of the allies for the restoration.
In this new statement the pope intimates that damage inflicted on Belgium must certainly be made good and probably the damage on other territories as well. If the pope is able to secure endorsement by Germany, the end of the war is in sight.

VAST DIFFERENCE BETWEEN DRAFT NOW AND ONE IN 1862

Old Files of Republican Reveal How Drawing Was Conducted to Get Men For Union Army.

FAIR GROUND WAS CAMP RUSH

Old files of the Republican, then a weekly newspaper, give an account of the drawing for the first draft ever held in Rush county, which was used in 1862 to get men to fight in the Union army after the volunteer system had been found to be a failure.

The vast difference between the draft then and now, when over a half century has elapsed, is disclosed. Then any man who would pay $200 was excused from the draft and a substitute was sent in his place. In the drawing, the Republican of Wednesday, October 8, 1862, reveals there were thirty-four who preferred to pay $200 to going to war. Their names are given by townships, but in only four townships were there men who did not want to go to war. There were thirty from Ripley township, two from Posey, one from Center, and one from Rushville.

The number of men drawn by townships were as follows: Washington, nineteen; Union thirty-three; Center, twenty-nine; Jackson, nineteen; Posey, eight.

In the explanation of the drawing, it is not stated what the limitations to the draft were; whether only men within certain ages were liable to draft and how it was determined who should be drafted.

Previous to the draft, there had been many volunteers from Rush county join the Union army. The last reference to this found in the files of the Republican before the draft took place was in the issue of December 11, 1861. At that time, it

SPECULATION WILL CEASE

Local Grain Men Will Have Until Week From Tomorrow to Dispose of Stock Now on Hands.

Indianapolis hog quotations made the biggest drop on record today when they went off a dollar and a half on the hundred. Receipts were the same as yesterday. The top price was $17.50.

Local grain dealers announced today that they would receive no grain quotations after tomorrow because the grain speculation will then cease, in accordance with the request of the food administration at Washington. Grain dealers say they have until a week from tomorrow to sell all the grain they have on hands. They have no idea what the future has in store because it is not settled what the policy of the food administration will be.

Local wheat bids were the same. In Chicago September wheat was up five cents and September corn advanced a cent and a quarter. December corn was up one cent. December oats was off a half cent; May, three-eighths; September, an eighth.

In Indianapolis wheat was up a cent and a half and corn was three to seven cents higher. Oats was higher.

repeating this instruction was receipt of word that one board was anticipating a change of the conscription law relating to claims for exemption because of dependent relatives.

"Gen. Crowder has explained time after time," the statement declared, "that any man having persons wholly dependent upon him should be exempted from military service, regardless of whether that dependent is wife, child, brother, sister or parent, and regardless of whether the applicant for exemption is married or single."

"The local conscription board is presumed to investigate every case and claim of exemption and to use its own judgment in these cases, but it must follow the law and has no right to anticipate a change or amendment. It should not presume to take any other course than that specified in the conscription law."

The name of Levi Crull, Jr., has been taken off the list of registrants marked as not appearing for examination and therefore liable to be treated as a deserter. Crull asked permission from the board to be examined in South Dakota, where he was employed, after the time limit expired for making such a request. The local board had no authority to grant the request for that reason and could do nothing but list him as failing to report for examination. The board reported the matter to the district board which advised that his examination in South Dakota be recognized, which has been done, but the report on his examination has not been received back here.

The first 1,000 miles is the most critical period in its life. Until the moving parts are fully adjusted to each other, they need constant watching. If well maintained your car will run better the 2,000th mile than the first.

LAKE COUNTY SETS NEW MURDER MARK

More Committee First 7 and Half Months Than Recorded in Canada in 1916.

17 HOMICIDES SINCE JAN. 1

For This Red Record of Death, Not One Person Has Paid the Death Penalty.

(By United Press.)

Hammond, Aug. 22.—More murders have been committed in Lake county during the first seven and a half months of this year than were recorded in the entire Dominion of Canada, with its 10,000,000 people during 1916.

The record of homicides in the county since Jan. 1 has reached the staggering total of 17, and police apparently are powerless to halt the crime wave. In all of Canada last year, only 12 persons were murdered.

For this red record of death, not one person has paid the supreme penalty in the electric chair at Michigan City.

Agitation for more effective protection of life in the county was begun today by Coroner J. A. Graham, who made public the crime record for the first seven and a half months of the year.

"Stop the carrying of concealed weapons by heavy fines and jail sentences," said the coroner, "and Lake county will no longer have reasons to be ashamed of its crime record."

Coroner Graham made public the following list of murders in the county so far this year:

Louis Pratt, 25, Indiana Harbor, homicide by shooting, January 15; Mary D. Taylor, 36, Gary, homicide by shooting, February 2; Fred E. Higgins, 25, homicide by shooting, February 20, at Hammond; Will Farrell, 40, Crown Point, homicide by shooting; John Lubar, 44, Indiana Harbor, homicide by shooting, April 7; Eugene De Bartola, 15, East Chicago, homicide by shooting, April 14; Julia Bogosowski, 6, Gary, raped and murdered, June 6; Mike Gazes, 22, Gary, homicide by stab wounds, May 14; Hanna Nelson, 47, East Chicago, homicide by shooting, June 13; Alec Witasas, 33, East Chicago, homicide by shooting, June 23; Louis Szalae, 45, East Chicago, killed by blow over head, July 7; W. Carl Spradley, 28, Gary, homicide by stab wound, July 27; Max Hess, Hammond, homicide by shooting, July 24; William Stradley, guard at Gary steel mills, stabbed and killed, July 9; Mrs. Mary Sikora, East Chicago, (coroner's verdict, murder), July 29; Herman Schaub, Hammond, homicide by shooting (died in Indiana) August 5, and Tofin Muzak, East Chicago, homicide by shooting, August 10.

FRENCH TARS HERE FORM FRIENDSHIPS

Do Not Wait For American Sailors To Reach France To Become Acquainted

LANGUAGE IS NO BAR TO THEM

(By United Press.)

An Atlantic Port, Aug. 22.—American and French sailors do not wait until they arrive in France to fraternize. The French tars are here with French ships lying in the harbor, while American sailors by the thousands are at a navy-yard nearby.

Residents witnessed a novel sight recently. Four of Uncle Sam's sailors and four from France paraded the main thoroughfare on a sight seeing tour. The men were paired and each man wound his arm about the other's waist.

Pals they were despite the fact that they could not understand each other's language. Apparently it made no difference.

HOUSTON RULED BY MARTIAL LAW

STATIONED AT CAMP LOGAN

Over Score of Men, Women And Children Are Wounded—Dead Civilians, Police, Guardsmen

TROOPERS TO BE MOVED

(By United Press.)

Washington, Aug. 24.—Negro regulars who engaged in last night's riot at Houston, Tex., will be moved at once from that city, secretary of War Baker announced today.

(By United Press.)

Houston, Tex., Aug. 24.—Regular soldiers from Galveston are on their way to Houston, to assist citizens and national guardsmen in preventing a renewal of the rioting by negro soldiers that last night resulted in the death of 14 whites and two negroes.

The city was under martial law while Illinois troops guarded street cars, alleys and every street leading to Camp Logan, north of the city, where the rioting started.

While no violence was reported today, excitement was running high. Expulsion of the negro regiment was demanded in street meetings. The trouble started, according to the police, when a policeman arrested a negro woman at Camp Logan.

A negro soldier, escorting the woman, objected, the police said, and was arrested. Another negro interfered and he, too, was arrested. This was the signal for a general mobilization of the negroes and 80 of them, fully armed marched into the city pouring shot into the homes wherever a light showed.

A search began for dead in the rioting of members of the Twenty-fourth United States Infantry, a negro regiment at Camp Logan, the new national cantonment for Illinois troops.

The known dead were 16 at midday, but many more are believed to have been killed. The dead were white men, civilians, police officers and national guardsmen.

Upwards of a score of persons, men, women and children were wounded. It is not yet known how many negroes were killed.

It was reported that twelve persons injured in the rioting had been taken to hospitals.

The camp is situated eight miles out from Houston and with soldiers barring the way and the telephone wires down, information regarding the trouble is difficult to obtain. The camp was being guarded by Illinois soldiers.

C. N. Wright, a civil engineer, was shot in the thigh. He was taken to a hospital. T. Binford, a city detective, was shot in the leg. It was said the two girls were seriously wounded.

ON THEIR WAY TO DALLAS

Negro Troopers Who Rioted Escape From Houston

Dallas, Tex., Aug. 24.—Houston police early today notified Dallas officials that a number of armed negro soldiers of the Twenty-fourth U. S. Infantry, who rioted last night at Camp Logan near Houston, were on their way to Dallas.

The negro soldiers made their escape on a Houston and Texas Central train, according to the Houston police. It is not stated why the troopers were coming to Dallas. Police reserves were rushed to Hutchins, 12 miles south of Dallas to meet the negro soldiers and arrest them.

DESERTION IS CHARGED.

Lafayette, Ind., Aug. 24.—James Peakin, a private of Battery C, was arrested yesterday at the home of his mother and is charged with desertion. Peakin took French leave on two previous occasions, came to this city and was returned by the police.

An Old Scheme

Reports have been coming in of the sale of crops "in the field," in advance of the harvest, to be delivered on the order of the buyer, or to be harvested by the buyer at his pleasure.

Past experience has shown our people that in many instances these crops are never harvested. This is not oversight on the part of the purchaser, as some credulous persons might think. It is deliberate and with a purpose. The crops are bought with this possible end in view.

Our food hogs are shrewd. Government and state reports preface a record production of food crops this year. In the natural order of things this would be bound to lower prices to some extent, even in the face of the heavy foreign demand. But this is just what the food speculator does not wish to see occur. To avoid it he must evolve some plan to "retire" a greater or less proportion of the crop from the markets. Hence they are bought up "in the field"—and, if our officials are not careful, many of them will rot in the field.

The farmers are loyal to the core and will not connive at a practice that tends to both waste and extortion.

Loyal farmers, it is up to you to see that the purchaser of your crops—provided you have sold any "in the field"—moves these crops at the proper time. In case they are not so moved, and loss or even waste is threatened, it is your sacred duty as a loyal citizen to notify the authorities in charge of the food situation at Washington, and you should do this while there is yet time to save the crop.

Our sons and brothers in France are going to need every ounce of our produce that we can send them. Let us see that none of it goes to waste through the "carelessness" of these speculators.

Labor And $2 Wheat

Senator James H. Brady of Idaho is a practical farmer. He has experienced many demonstrations of the increasing price of labor, and says that he is now paying from three to four dollars a day for men whom formerly he could secure for two dollars. Men engaged in irrigation work on his farms Senator Brady is compelled to pay $110 a month and board, which is fifty per cent more than he had to pay before the war. In view of those facts, and the corresponding increase in the price of farming materials, Mr. Brady thinks that the guaranteed price in the food bill of $2 a bushel for wheat is not at all excessive, and will give the farmers no more profit than they have been accustomed to. Senator Brady was an earnest advocate of that measure, and did everything in his power to hasten its enactment.

Wisconsin Unwavering

It is a pleasing relief, after the remarks of certain Senators, to read the memorial of the Legislature of Wisconsin which was presented to the House the other day by Congressman Edward E. Brown of that State. The document pleads for

Beauties of The Corn Belt

By (Robert E. Mansfield)

There are few more beautiful or more interesting sights than that presented by the fields of waving corn that flank the roads in Indiana at this season of the year. In serried ranks it rises on every side, in many instances extending as far as the vision reaches, the graceful fronds waiving in the sunshine and rustling in the breezes, while above the walls of verdure rise the tassels, resembling spiked helmets crowning the individual stalks. From the tip of each growing ear protrudes a silken skein, giving a touch of color, and adding interest to the scene.

The corn presents a beautiful picture from the time the tender shoots appear above the ground in the spring until it is gathered into shocks or stands in russet ranks at husking time in the late autumn. When the frost king has laid his withering hand upon the corn, and the ears hang like pendants from the stalks, or piled in golden heaps in barns and bins, corn forms the most attractive feature of the Indiana landscape. And it also constitutes the chief source of wealth in the Hoosier state.

Corn in the United States means maize only, or maize in its different varieties. There is field corn (red, white and yellow,) sweet corn, popcorn, kaffir corn, and broom corn, and the traveler from east to west through the corn belt will pass through a thousand miles of tasseled stalks. It extends from the Allegheny to the Rocky mountains, and between the foothills of these two ranges lies the valley of the Mississippi which, in season is a vast sea of corn.

There is always the question as to the center of the corn belt. For many years Illinois has claimed precedence in corn production, but Indiana and Iowa are close seconds, and around these are grouped Ohio, Kentucky, Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska, while forming a border around the eastern and southern sections of the country are Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee, Arkansas, Texas and Oklahoma, all contributing to the tremendous yield of the nation's most potential source of wealth.

Taking central Illinois as a starting point, and drawing a circle one thousand miles in diameter, the area covered will include the American corn belt. Within that radius corn loyal support of the State of Wisconsin and its citizens to the President and the Government in the prosecution of the war. There is, perhaps, a larger German-American population in Wisconsin than in any other State, but that the sentiment of those citizens and of the State at large is patriotically supporting the war is amply demonstrated by the action of the Legislature.

Secretary of Commerce Redfield has written a letter commending a lighthouse keeper in Chicago for his service in aiding to save a man who had fallen off a pier. The commendation is well merited, but one cannot help recalling in this connection that Secretary Redfield never punished the officers whose negligence resulted in the overturning of the "Eastland" and the drowning of some 1200 men, women and children.

The Official Bulletin contains the announcement that the Red Cross has appropriated $10,000 to rid the Columbia, South Carolina, cantonment of malaria. Hurrah for the Red Cross; but what shall we say of the authorities that located a cantonment at that place.

Kerensky, it is said, is thinking of reopening that Siberian summer resort. For America, you know, is not the only country in which slackers and traitors thrive.

It remained for the American army mules in France to give Pershing's troops their most rousing reception.

is king, and there will be found the ideal climate and conditions for the highest development of this valuable cereal. The broad prairies and the fertile valleys of Illinois, Indiana, and Iowa furnish the best soil for the production of corn. Here the rainfall during the spring and early summer is usually sufficient to provide moisture for the proper nourishment of the growing corn, and the intense heat of July and August furnishes the conditions necessary for maturing the grain. And the late autumn, designated as "Indian Summer", seems a wise provision of nature for ripening the corn and preparing it for the harvest.

But there is a real corn belt, a limited region, watered by the rivers embraced by the two great arms of the Ohio and Mississippi, especially the lands that lie along the Wabash and Sangamon rivers, the lowlands of Indiana, and the prairies of Illinois. The territory watered by these streams and their tributaries is the greatest corn producing region in America.

The corn belt, especially Indiana, has achieved distinctions that command nation-wide recognition in other lines than that of the production of corn. It is recognized as the literary center of America. Here has developed a literary cult that is peculiar to, and characteristic of the middle west. The people beside the Wabash and the Sangamon are the most characteristically American to be found anywhere on the continent. Here in the bosom of the prairies, in the heart of the great forests, and beside the lakes and rivers, the incipient soul of America was to be found in the early years before the civil war; here is the center of population, and here in this fertile region has been developed a great industrial and intellectual center. These were and still are the romance people of America. Into these strange lands of malaria and mysticism, of feuds and kindly fellowship, entered, and has been centered the best of whatever we have received of ancient, or developed in modern chivalry.

The corn belt is the most productive, the most prosperous, and will ultimately become the most populous region in the United States. In agricultural, industrial, educational and intellectual development, it is making more rapid progress than any section of country on the American continent.

In time of kidney danger Doan's Kidney Pills are most effective.

Plenty of Rushville evidence of their worth.

Mrs. W. A. Wylie, 824 N. Arthur St., Rushville says: "I never had kidney trouble until quite recently. Now I appreciate what a serious complaint this is and how severely one can suffer from it. The trouble began with a dull, dragging pain directly across my kidneys and over my hips. I was utterly unable to do my housework for a week and was in misery. Others of my family had taken Doan's Kidney Pills with excellent results, so I got some from Pitman & Wilson's Drug store. Soon the pain in my back disappeared."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Wylie had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y. (Adv.)

MUCH FOOD IS WASTED AT TABLE

State Food Administrator For Indiana Declares One-Tenth of Cost Is Lost

HE SUGGESTS A FIXED RATION

No Reason Why Everyone Should Not Have Enough If Right Practice Is Followed

Indianapolis, Aug. 24.—One-tenth of the farms of the country grow food that is wasted at the table, and more than one-tenth of all the cost of food and service is utterly lost.

These facts were emphasized today by Harry E. Barnard, food administrator, of Indiana, in an article written for the United Press, in which he urged a return to the old-fashioned "second helping" idea in table service as a means of eliminating food waste.

"In institutions, each inmate gets a fixed amount of food," Barnard said. "In the army every soldier is served his ration. The allowance is based on the idea that a certain, definite amount of food is necessary to sustain life and do work. But some individuals need more food than others. They weigh different amounts, they do different work. Some are what we call 'heavy eaters' others are content with less. There must be some waste when a fixed food allowance is measured out unless that amount is held so low that the danger of under nourishment is always present.

"In the home there is neither the need for waste nor poor feeding. It is only necessary to lay down a new table rule, if you want more ask for it, and then to make each individual serving no larger than will surely be eaten.

"It may not be necessary to urge some stewards to serve smaller portions, but in general it is a fact that the waste in good food because of too large portions is far too great. Every fragment of uneaten bread, every bit of undesired meat or vegetable, is a part of a wastage that totals millions of pounds every day. One-tenth of the farms of this country grow food that is wasted at the table, more than one-tenth of all the cost of food and service is utterly lost.

"There is no reason why everyone should not have all the food he wants and the practice of second helpings at the home table or in the restaurant should be encouraged."

TRIES TO MAKE TAX UNPOPULAR

This is Charged Against Senator LaFollette, Who is Accused of Disloyalty.

HIS EFFORT LOSES, 58 TO 21

Opposition Says it Can Muster Enough Votes to Retain Income Taxes in Bill.

Washington, August 24.—After another's debate embittered by charges that those desiring to make the war unpopular and embarrass the administration were behind the movement to greatly increase tax rates in the war tax bill, the Senate late Thursday rejected 58 to 21 Sen. LaFollette's amendment to raise $658,784,000 from individuals' incomes instead of $490,164,000 as proposed in the bill.

The fight to increase the income tax rates was to be resumed today, with partisan lines lost. Senator LaFollette has pending two more substitutes for the income tax schedule, proposing to levy about $600,000,000 and $505,000,000 respectively, and Senator Hollis, late today introduced another substitute proposing to raise about $550,000,000.

Leaders opposing further increases expressed confidence after the initial vote on the first and maximum substitute of the Wisconsin senator, that they would muster enough votes to retain the income rates now in the bill. They were not so sanguine, however, of preventing an increase in the rates on war profits, which may be reached Saturday.

In heated discussion preceding today's voting, Senator Simmons, chairman of the finance committee, and Senator LaFollette clashed sharply over the latter's amendment. Senator Simmons gave vigorous expression of sentiments which for several days have smoldered in private cloakroom discussion by declaring that interests seeking to embarrass the administration, and against the war policy, were interested in making the bill unpopular by increasing its tax burden.

Senator LaFollette retorted with a denunciation of any attempt to question the loyalty of those advocating a greater tax levy and the charge that the bill as drawn indicated "devotion to big incomes and the war profits."

UNITED PARTY IS BEHIND BORDEN

Has Advantage in Canada's October Election Because of This Fact
—Two Great Parties

FIGHT IS ON CONSCRIPTION

Liberals and Conservatives Seek to Control New Government Over War Policy

(By United Press.)

Ottawa, Canada, August 24.—To define Canadian political designations in American terms, the Liberal would be a Democrat in the United States. The Conservative would be a Republican. Party organizations are more rigid in Canada than they are now in the United States but in both the Liberal and Conservative parties there is the natural grouping of progressive and reactionary elements.

Both party organizations have been hard hit in the fight over the conscription issue which will culminate in the general election next fall. The anti-conscriptionist Liberal party (the "outs") under Laurier's leadership are going into the fight with the solid support of the province of Quebec. Quebec returns sixty-five seats to the House of Commons. Conservatives concede that Laurier will control at least sixty of them. Quebec is the "solid south" of Canada.

There are 500,000 Germans and Austrians in Canada, chiefly located in western provinces. Public opinion is that this vote will be almost solidly Liberal. Along with this vote there will be what Conservatives call the "shaker vote" or the support of men who have not enlisted. This will be important without question. Laurier too has a certain advantage in that fact that over 3,000,000 of the most progressive and aggressive of Canada's men are in war duty in Europe. There strength would be strongly pro conscription.

While Canadian soldiers can vote previous efforts along that line have shown the difficulties of conducting an election along the fighting front are tremendous. But twenty percent of the soldier vote of British Columbia was cast and counted in a recent provincial election.

It is upon these forces, the French-Canadian vote, the alien, the "shaker" and the "died in the wool" Liberal party man, that Sir Wilfred bases his hopes of success.

On the Conservative side it is freely admitted that the outlook for success is not the brightest. Yet Borden has many sources of strength. He has behind him a far more united party than Laurier. He has the support of the British Liberal Party. Early in the campaign a proposal for a coalition government was proposed to Laurier but refused by him. Now there is very strong talk of a Unionist government made up of Conservatives and "Win the War" Liberals.

This in the line up in Canada. They have brands of political hook-up over there that have never been smoked on this side of the lakes and every pipe is going to be put to it, full blast.

Spread the Meat Flavor

Spread the meat flavor and so economize on the amount of meat consumed, says the United States Department of Agriculture. Here is a suggestion for making a delicious dish from an inexpensive steak.
Mock Duck

On a round steak cut thin, place a stuffing of bread crumbs well seasoned with chopped onions, butter or other fat, salt, pepper, and flavorings such as sage, celery seed, etc., if desired. Roll the steak around the stuffing and tie in several places with a string. If the steak is tough steam or stew the roll until tender before roasting in the oven.

If desired, the roll may be cooked in a casserole, in which case a cupful or more of water should be added.

AMERICANS GET MILITARY CROSS

Two Are Decorated For Bravery Under Fire By King George One Was Wounded

IN ACTION AT VIMY RIDGE

(By United Press.) London, Aug. 1.—(By mail).—Two American lieutenants of the Canadian Army today wear the Military Cross as a reward for their bravery and leadership under fire. A. H. Pannill, of Chatham, Va., and Donald MacRae, of Washington, D. C., whose father is in the adjutant-general's office—were decorated by King George in recognition of their valor. Pannill, at Vimy Ridge took command of a company, captured part of a second-line trench and established a machine-gun position in a crater beyond the trench. His command suffered severe casualties. Pannill himself, though wounded by shrapnel, remained on the job for 24 hours consolidating the gains. He was transferred to the Royal Flying Corps.

MacRae found that his major's crown was keeping him out of action because the army needed active lieutenants and was plentifully supplied with major officers. The Washington man was so anxious to fight that he "pulled two stars" from his sleeve and took the rank of lieutenant. The act for which he received the Military Cross was performed on the Vimy front some time before the big assault.

was stated, there were five hundred ninety recruits from this county distributed among eleven infantry regiments and two cavalry troops.

On October 16, 1861, the old files show, a call was issued for volunteers for companies in the Fifty-Second Indiana Infantry, which was authorized by Governor Morton to be recruited in the fourth congressional district and adjoining counties. Rush county was then in the fourth district. The companies of the Fifty-Second mobilized at the fair grounds, which was then designated as Camp Rush. George W. Thomas and the late Judge Cullen were each authorized to raise a company for the regiment.

In those days as now, appeals were sent out for surplus blankets, socks, gloves and mittens. But the volunteers then had no organization back of them like the Red Cross to look after their needs.

The drawing of men for the draft was explained in the issue of Wednesday, October 8, 1862, in the following language:

"The draft took place in this county last Monday (October 6, 1862), in pursuance of orders. The citizens of the several townships to be drafted manifested a great degree of interest in the proceedings; but everything passed off satisfactorily and without any disturbance whatever. The commissioner, L. Sexton, Esq., allowed time for correcting the enrollment and for volunteering up to the last moment.

"Messrs. George Hibben, Ren Pugh, E. P. Schlater, George B. Sleeth and Samuel Atherton were selected by Mr. Sexton, as a committee to assist him in conducting the draft. The names of all persons liable to draft for each township, together with the number of the names on the envelope, were written on slips of paper, all of equal size. These names were carefully compared with the enrollment lists, by the committee, and then each name placed in an envelope, and the envelopes for each township placed in a wrapper and sealed securely. A box was provided with an opening at the top large enough to admit a man's hand. The package containing the names of a township was opened by J. R. Mitchell, Esq., provost marshal for Rush county, in presence of a number of persons selected from each township to witness the drawing. Col. C. W. McReynolds was selected to draw the ballots, and was properly blindfolded for that purpose. This selection was mutual between the commissioner and the committee from each township. The box was shaken prior to the drawing of each ballot, and ballots drawn successively until the required number for each township was drawn out, when the box was emptied and the ballots placed in the hands of the township committees to count. There could be no possible chance for any unfairness in the draft, and everybody present was satisfied on this point. In the forenoon the "conscientious men" were drafted and in the afternoon the "fighting" class."

To show how small the big world is, we met Ed Smith, formerly of Rushville in Jackson, Miss., and several fellows have found acquaintances in the camp already. We have already had our pictures taken for the newspapers. The captain had an awful time trying to find someone in camp who could tell him something. He spent thirty-five minutes before he could find an officer and then he was still out of luck. It seems as if no one knows what is going on and as a last resort Capt. Kiplinger took the initiative and did as he pleased.

The mess halls and kitchens look fine—what there is of them—and I suppose in a few days we will be properly fixed out.

Very few of the boys had the "blues" on the way down here, but some of them are now beginning to look "down at the mouth." They are complaining about the heat and it is only 8 o'clock in the morning so by dinner time they will have a real kick coming.

I hope to have an opportunity to inspect the camp and country more thoroughly within a few days.

"ORDERS IS ORDERS"

Hattiesburg, Miss., August 24.—Sergt. Stapp of Company B of the Fourth Indiana Regiment, a new soldier who recently won his spurs, spent a sleepless night on arrival of the troops here. He had been ordered by Capt. Kiplinger to dispatch a wire to headquarters at Charleston, S. C., immediately on arrival of the troops here. The train arrived in the wee hours of the morning and the telegraph operator had gone to roost. With the command in his mind, Sergt. Stapp called up New Orleans by long distance and managed to get hold of a wide-awake operator at the telegraph station. He dictated the message over the wire and reached the cantonment when the sun was high in the heavens.

He was non-pulsed when informed by his superior that he might have waited till morning with his message instead of rousing the entire service at Charleston out of bed. Sergt. Stapp lost some sleep, but in his reply to his bantering comrades said:

"Well, I still insist that orders is orders."

The Weber Always Leads

ABOUT 1845, when the first Weber was built, you could not buy a better wagon than a Weber.
There were no better built. Weber made "the best"
his standard.

That was over seventy years ago, but the standard has been the same every year since. You know that, from the good work you have seen Weber wagons doing. You know they have been always popular.

We can show you, if you come in, that "the best" is the Weber standard to-day. We want to show the wagon to you in the up-to-date form, with every improvement, some of which you can't find on any other make of wagon.

You can see, here in the store, the new fifth wheel, the folding end gate, the link end rods, the strong construction of gears, wheels, and boxes. Come in the first chance you have and see this wagon.

Y. W. C. A. FACES BIG RED CROSS GUARDS TASK IN WAR WORK AGAINST DISEASES

National Board is Confronted With Responsibility of Safeguarding Moral Conditions.

AROUND THE TRAINING CAMPS

European Countries Also Seek Trained American Women For Work There.

(By United Press.)

New York, Aug. 24.—"Safeguard the girls" is the burden of scores of letters pouring into the national headquarters of the Young Women's Christian Association at New York City.

The National Board of the Y. W.
C. A. is confronted with an immense responsibility for helping safeguard moral conditions in the neighborhood of training camps and for providing for the welfare of women in special industries created by the unusual conditions of war.

A still further responsibility has been brought to them by cable from European countries asking for trained American women to help in the constructive programs for new life among women in Russia, France and England.

Through the National Board of the Y. W. C. A. has assembled on its War Work Council a number of women known from ocean to ocean for their public spirited interest on all that affects a community.

Requests have come from a large number of the centers near which troops are being quartered for experienced workers and secretaries to work with local Y. W. C. A.'s in organizing the young women and girls of the various communities with a view to counteracting the natural attraction which the uniform has for young girls.

Admiration for uniforms is based on a deeper admiration for the manliness and courage of those who are to go to the front. The lure of the khaki may be made a summons to dignity in the girl and manliness in the soldier.

At various training and concentration camps trained secretaries of the Y. W. C. A. are on the spot gathering up all the resources of the community which can be made to serve the interests of the young women and girls.

There will be a number of cantonments in centers where no large city exists. To these the Y. W. C. A. is giving special attention.

Hostess houses, where women relatives and friends of the soldiers may have a home-like place to meet their soldier friends, are being built.

Will Equip Five Laboratory Railroad Cars For Emergency Work in Cantonment Camps.

STAFF OF 5 EXPERTS ON EACH

Will be so Stationed as to be Able to Reach Any Camp Within 24 Hours After Call.

Washington, Aug. 24.—The Medical Advisory Committee of the Red Cross War Council has just decided to equip five laboratory railroad cars which will be prepared for emergency work against possible outbreaks of epidemics in cantonment camps in this country.

Each car will have a staff of five or more experts and will be so stationed at various cities that any cantonment can be reached with one of these laboratory cars within twenty-four hours on receipt of request from federal or state authorities.

Dr. R. M. Pearce, Secretary of the Medical Advisory Committee, in explaining the plan said:

"In sudden emergencies such as epidemics of meningitis or diphtheria, either inside a military encampment or in the vicinity, a great deal of highly specialized laboratory work will be necessary for proper control of the epidemic. Although laboratories will be established in each district, sufficient for ordinary requirements, these may have neither the equipment nor the staff to meet such emergencies, and to enlarge all of these laboratories would be excessively expensive.

"The setting up of an emergency laboratory always involves loss of time and some confusion. The most practical way to meet the requirements is to have several laboratory cars, fully equipped and distributed at various points throughout the country, so that one may be delivered at any point within twenty-four hours. Various large laboratories will furnish volunteer staffs of the most competent men in the country, held in readiness to respond immediately to any call. By this arrangement a fully equipped laboratory with experienced staff, prepared to begin work at once, will be immediately available wherever needed."

The U. S. Public Health Service has such a mobile laboratory unit and Surgeon General Rupert Blue said the Red Cross cars would prove of the greatest assistance in the control of civilian sanitary districts. The plan has also been commended by the Surgeons General of the United States Army and Navy.

Washington, August 24.—Up on Pennsylvania avenue, at the Southwest corner of the White House grounds, Steve Vasilakos and his peanut-stand hold forth.

Steve, a burly, fierce-mustached Greek, stands scowling beside his wailing little nickel plated whistle and his stack of goobers from early morning until late at night.

Just to look at him, you'd think he neither knew nor cared whether there was a war or not. There is about him an air of gross commercialism.

But today, scowling and crusty as usual, he tacked this sign, daubed with red paint on white cardboard, over his stand:

"I GIVE MY ENTIRE PRO-CEEDS THIS WEEK TO THE RED
